BILL TO INCREASE ARMY OFFICERS' PAY

Second Lieutent, $2,200; First, $2,500; Captain, $2,900; Major, $2,500.

Major, $2,500.

"For the first time since 1908 a measure has been introduced into congress providing for an increase of the pay of army officers from the grade of colonel down to that of second leutenant inclusive," says the Army and Navy Journal. "The bill (H.R. 12,852) introduced in the house of representatives by Mr. Dyer provides that "hereafter the annual pay of officers of the army of the several grades recisin memtioned shall be as follows: Colonel, $4,800; insulenant-colonel, $4,600; major, $3,500; captain, $2,900; first lieutenant, $2,500; first lieutenant, $2,500; and second lieutenant, $2,200. Following the introduction of his bill Mr. Dyer had read into the Congressional Record on Sept. 14 a memorandum in connection with his bill, siving a summary of the reasons for his action in favor of raising army officers' pay that reads in part as follows:

"In 1908 congress increased the pay of army officers and enlisted men because of the increased cost of living. In 1317 congress doubled the pay of enlisted men, but in this enacurnent failed to consider the increased cost of living during the past ten years as it affected the commissioned officers. At the same time for the same reason the pay of commissioned officers. WOMEN'S WAR WORK

(By Winona Wilcox.)

"What woman needs most is 'brains."

"Undoubtedly the war has one valuable by-product. The work it compels woman to do makes them develop their thinking powers. It fixes in them a sense of system and thoroughness."

And that is probably the chief reaction of war work upon the individual woman. In line with it is the valuable lesson in organization and co-operation which the business woman learns.

Scorea of woman's clubs have died because the members could not work together to fold a perfect bandage. Whatever the war work women do not find it at all hard to compromise their differences for the sake of the boys in France.

War work is also making woman forget of industrial alsvery for women. remarked a noted teacher not long ago.

CLOWN IS REAL MILLIONAIRE

Mr. and Mrs. Hartzell Snapped at a Busy Moment

Did you ever hear of the "millionaire clown?" His name is George Hartzeil, and, what's more, he is coming to Chattanooga Wednesday, Sept. 25. This notable character of the sawdust is one of a band of eighty funny fellows who travel with the Ringling Brothers' Circus.

Of course Hartzeil isn't worth a million per by several dollars, but he is a wed when the Vertraelle "lake to the road for another season."

Of course Hartzell isn't worth a million, not by several dollars—but he is a very rich man. Mrs. Hartzell is the wardrobe mistress, in charge of all the thousands of costumes which dress the circus in silks and spangles. Husband and wife have worked shoulder to shoulder for more than a dozen years. They have earned good salarles, saved their money and invested it wisely. Today they own property in Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia, and have an income quite sufficient to keep them in comfort for the rest of their lives. Should you ask Mr. and Mrs. Hartzell why they still toll under the white-tops when they might be leading a life of idleness, they will tell you that they tried it once for just one

Fund.

The local Kiwanis club has been officially designated by Rutledge Smith, of the State Council of National Defense, and J. W. Abel, food administrator for the county, to have charge of all war salvaging work in Chattanooga during the period of the war.

O. P. Darwin, president of the local club, states that they will proceed at once to organize under the name of the "Chattanooga Salvage association."

This new organization will be managed by an executive board composed of a committee from the club and of the chairman or president of several local committee from the club and of the chairman or president of several local women's organizations that will be asked to co-operate. Among the organizations that will be called upon are the Junior league, of which Mrs. T. H. McClure is president, and the local committee of the Council of National Defense, of which Mrs. W. J. Loaring Clark is president.

Plans of the organization as outlined.

Plans of the organization as outlined by Mrs. Darwin are, first, the salvag-ing of merchandise materials of all kinds; second, the raising of funds for such war work as may be designated by the executive committee of the or-ganization.

ganization.

Complete details for the organization will be discussed at length at the meeting of the Kiwanis club Tuesday at the Hotel Patten.

The movement was first started in California, and since its organization has been rapidly spreading over the started country.

has been rapidly spreading over the entire country.

In Nashville this same work is being carried on by the Kiwanis club, and included on the program this week is the gathering up of old automobile tires. The association there has already made $480.50, with which they purchased a new ambulance for the Vanderbitt medical unit in France, and in addition to this they donated $1,000 in cash to this unit.

The collection of shoes and all kinds The collection of shoes and all kinds of wearing apparel will be another feature of the work. These will be collected at a main headquarters, to be sold. Merchants will be called upon to donate what is called "slow moving merchandise." which will all be sold or auctioned off.

After the organization has been per-

After the organization has been perfected, the first work that will be done will be the gathering up of all old au-tomobile tires. They will probably rope in a space in front of some store in the central part of the city where patriotic citizens may drive up at any time and throw an automobile tire over

Wherever this plan has been tried out, the result has been that thousands of dollars have been made to promote the war and much has been conserved.

Accidentally Shot

As He Lowers Flag

Robert Donald Allison, son of J. H. Allison, general manager of the Tennessean and American, was accidentally shot Wednesday evening just after he had removed the American flag from its pole in front of the residence, 1800 Primrose avenue, says a special from Nashville.

Young Allison, who made it his duty to lower Old Glory at sunset every evening, was carrying the flag up the front steps when sudenly he tripped and fell. The 22-caliber rifle which he was carrying the side and passing up and out through the eye.

He was rushed to St. Thomas hospital, where an operation was performed by Dr. M. C. McGannon, necessitating the removal of the right eye. The patient was resting easily at a late hour last night.

Journeymen Plumbers

Information regarding the matter of a wage increase for union plumbers is that the master plumbers have offered to pay the unionists $6.50 per day, which is but 50 cents less than was set forth in the demands that were made last week. This increase is scheduled to go into effect on Jan. 1, 1919, providing the union accepts it. Up to Monday afternoon the union had not answered the proposal of the master plumbers.

The union men wanted a raise in their wage scale of from 75 cents in their wage scale of from 75 cents to $7 1-2 cents an hour, which amounts to $7 for eight hours' work. They have been getting $6 per day.
